To whom it may concern,

Mountain Roofing completed our roof project on 24 Campbell avenue in Roanoke Va. This project converted the old Woolworth building to retail, living and parking space. Mountain Roofing served as our prime contractor in the first phase of reworking water damaged areas of the wood deck and getting the building dry with a new TPO roof system. Overall stabilizing the building for the second phase of work. In this initial phase a general contractor worked as a sub contractor to Mountain Roofing for the engineered roof deck replacement.

The second phase of work was awarded to G@H contracting from Salem Va.. Mountain Roofing inc worked with G@H as a subcontractor to complete the project. Mountain Roofing Inc. completed HVAC penetrations, Two metal roofs, concrete paver deck area with levelers, complete garden roof system, two different style metal wall panels, copper gutter and down spouts and other exterior sheet metal work as needed.

This was a complicated project that required everyone on the project to work together to be successfully completed. All of Mountain Roofing's staff were great to work with from the first phase to the completion of the second phase of the project.

I would highly recommend Mountain Roofing Inc.

Thanks,
